

Women in Business Conference
London Business School
5 March 2011

The London Business School 11th Annual Women in Business Conference is taking place Saturday, March 5th from 9 am to 6 pm. The theme of this year's conference is "Closing Gaps: The Next Stage in Women's Leadership." You will hear from leaders across industries about their path to leadership, and the unique ways women can contribute to business in a rapidly changing environment.

The opening address will be given by Dame Mary Marsh, London Business School Executive MBA 1989, Chair of the London Business School International Alumni Council and founding Director of the Clore Social Leadership Programme. The keynote address will be given by Sally Tennant, CEO of Kleinwort Benson. You will also get to hear high profile speakers from Morgan Stanley, Goldman Sachs, Diageo, Prada Group, Vodafone, the U.K. Home Office, as well as several successful entrepreneurs.

In the afternoon, you can attend skills workshops where you can speak with and learn more from these women leaders. To finish the day, entrepreneurs from the London Business School MBA class of 2011 will present the Spring/Summer 2011 Women's Collection, The Fold, during a cocktail reception and networking event.

For more information and to buy tickets please visit <http://clubs.london.edu/wib/conference/>

Please feel free to forward this invitation to anyone you know that might be interested.